Welcome to today's home

Today's home has become the center of our world.

The home has become the center of our world – it is a school, an office, a gym, a theater and yes where we eat and sleep. We have adapted and changed how we interact and function. We have overcome many obstacles and now find ourselves in a new realm where we can control how our homes operate. It's time to look up to Bright Skies™.

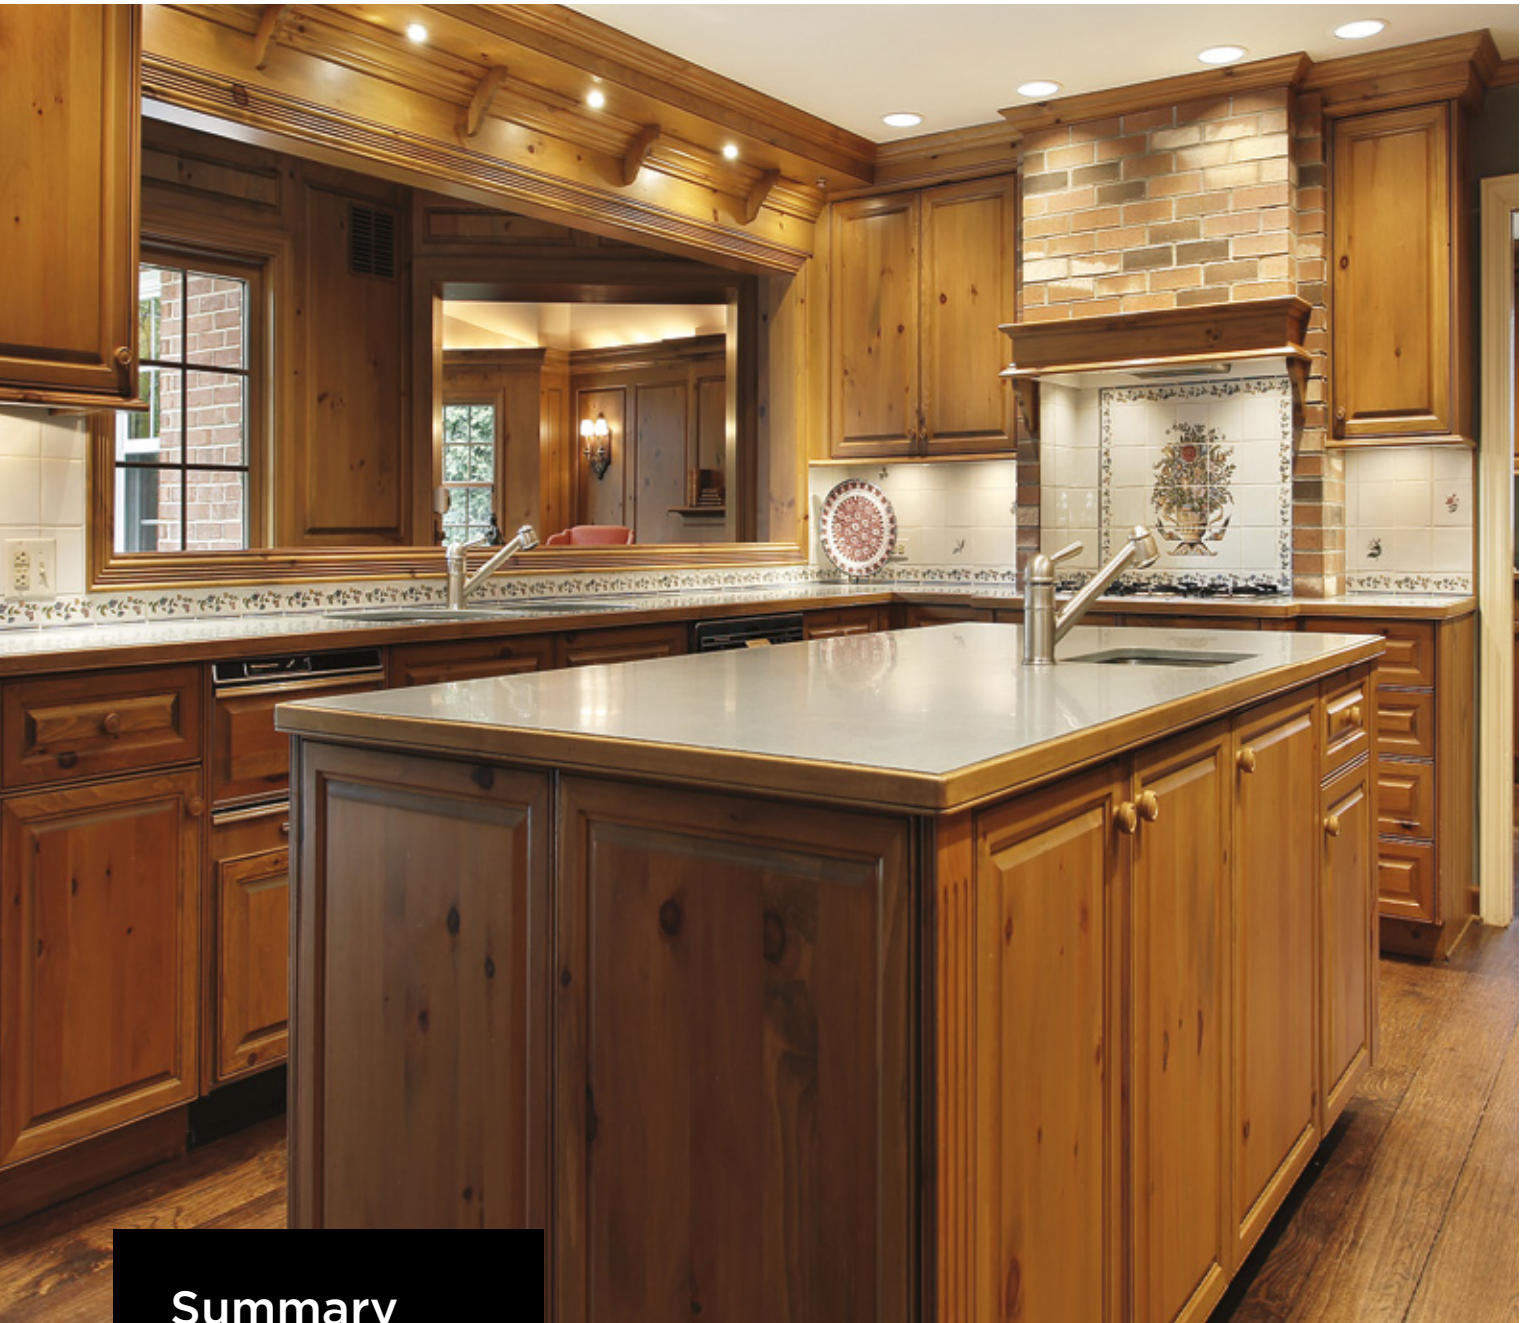

New trends in the home are now emerging. Our “open home” now needs to be a little more private. The once open platform now needs areas to Zoom – a word that was not part of our vocabularies a year ago. We need an area to work out, to have private reading time, to work in a quiet space, new mudrooms to take the world away from us when we come home. New home construction has and will take all these elements into consideration. In the following pages we will look at the designs, colors, and finishes that will complement Today's New Home.

Traditional

Summary

- 1 Raised panels, intricate moldings
 - 2 Rich warm finishes, linen whites
 - 3 Classic, timeless design
- Drawing design elements from classical inspiration, the timeless beauty of consistency and style that exemplifies elegance and comfort.
 - Traditional finishes embrace the darker woods of cherry, mahogany and walnut, and warmer wood tones.
